The Demise of the Directory Web Librarian work removed

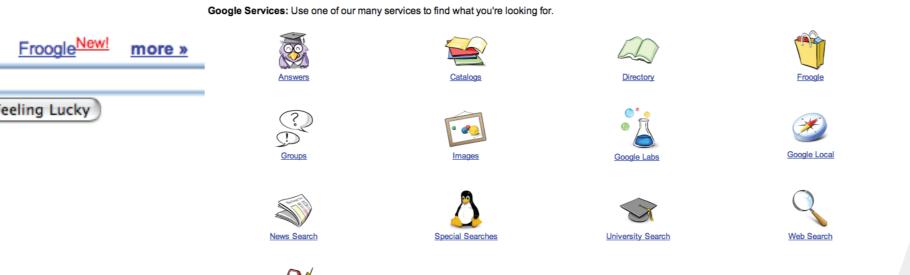

From October 2000 to March 2004, the directory enjoyed front-page (and tab) status on Google. Since March 2004, the directory has gone from one and twoclicks away to a search away.

Search 1,247,340,000 web pages Google Search (I'm Feeling Lucky Google Web Directory the web organized by topic

New! Try our do-it-yourself advertising program - AdWords.

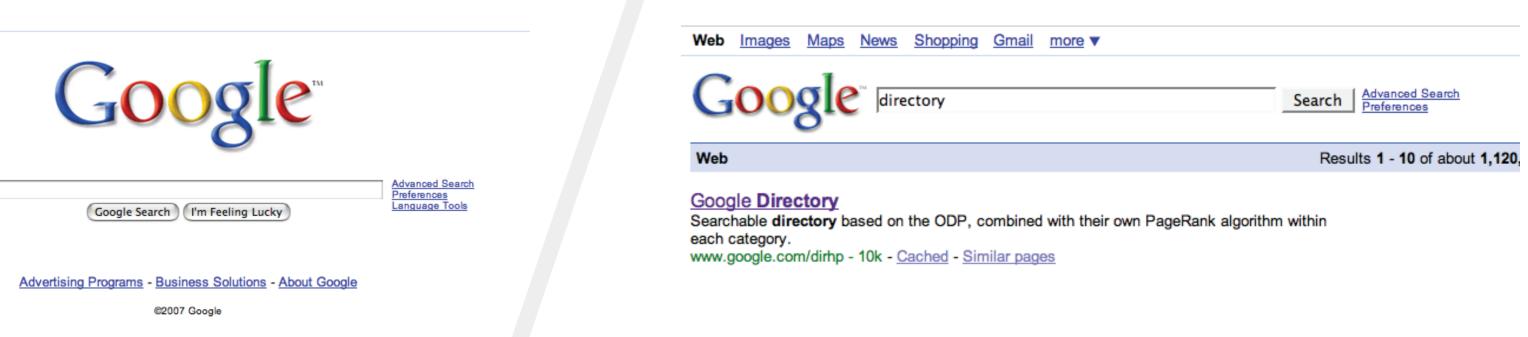

2006 august 10

In August 2006 the director loses its position under 'more.' The directory is now two clicks away, under 'even more.'

2000 october 27

2001 october 02

2007 May 18

In May 2008 you have to search for Google's Directory search in Google

2008 May 09

In May 2007 the directory disappears altogether from Google. It is no longer listed.

In October 2000 Google introduces a directory. The directory is by dmoz, the Open Directory Project.

By October 2001 the directory has achieved the status of a tab.

In March 2004 the directory loses its position as a front-page tab. The directory is now a click away, under 'more.'